We really enjoy accessing all of the wonderful culture and beauty here that Jacksonville and Northeast Florida has to offer. From the museums and nature attractions of Jacksonville or the Alligator Farm in St. Augustine, our group home residents have been out enjoying all of the wonderful things our area has to offer!

The Episcopal School of Jacksonville "Angelwood Amigos" has been busy with their Angelwood friends. The club hosts activities and outings for our group home residents throughout the year, as well as volunteering at Angelwood Summer Day Camp. Fun is in the air this fall as our residents cheer on their Amigos at football games and a bowling activity.

Angelwood is fortunate to have many volunteers who help us. Every group or individual brings their unique talents to assist those in our programs. We are thankful for all of our volunteers!

For years Mick Barr has been instrumental in helping Angelwood share our story by developing our website and producing our videos. We are grateful that this professional web designer and photographer has chosen to share his time and artistry with us. www.barrdesign.com
